

THE PUTNEY SOCIETY

THE AMENITY FOR PUTNEY AND ROEHAMPTON

Announces a New 4th Edition of PUTNEY AND ROEHAMPTON A BRIEF HISTORY

£9.95, and £7.50 to members, includes p&p (order form below)

- When was your street built?
- Was it hit during the War?
- When was Roehampton the most exclusive village in England?
- Why did the Wesley brothers walk to Putney?

Answers to these and a thousand other parts of our local historical jigsaw are found in the Society's extensively rewritten and extended splendid new edition of Scott MacRobert's brief history of Putney and Roehampton first published in 1971. The new book is lavishly illustrated with original colour photographs, maps showing the development of Putney from 1631, a 'bomb' map, and 19th century photos of Putney High Street and the bridge painting a dramatic contrast with life today.

NEW CHAPTERS INCLUDE:

- The Putney Debates 1647: Incisive introduction to an early plea for democracy.
- Roehampton 15th to 21st Century: Story of an historic village and its surrounds.
- Literature and Leisure: Highlighting the wide range of literary figures who lived in Putney: among them Gibbon, Swinburne, Arnold Bennett who set his 1908 novel 'Buried Alive' in Putney, J R Ackerley author of 'My Dog Tulip', the poet Gavin Ewart and Sir William Lancaster who founded the Putney Art School.
- Putney At War 1935-1945: first hand accounts from residents who lived through the war, with bomb map
- Bestride the Millennium: Why we love Putney today!

Contents:

Beginnings, The Middle Ages, Putney Under the Tudors, Parish and Parks, The Putney Debates 1647, To Build a Bridge?, Highways – and Highwaymen, Roehampton 15th to 21st Century, Growth Begins, Saving the Commons, Literature and Leisure, Putney at War 1939-45, Putney Society and the Ringway, Bestride the Millennium

Order Form – Please send to Hugh Thompson, 54 Festing Road, SW15 1LP

Please send ..... copies to Name address and post code(please PRINT)

.....

.....

.....

I enclose a cheque payable to the Putney Society for £ .....

Special price to Putney Society members - £7.50, includes post & packing.